The rear car of the 8-car Johnny Cash Special in March 1978 had Johnny Cash with Arkansas Governor David Pryor to his left on the platform. The train was photographed near Rison, Arkansas on its tour across this part of Arkansas. (Cash's home town is Kingsland, Arkansas). It was pulled by SP bicentennial engine #3197. The ARKANSAS RAILROAD CLUB is a non-profit organization of railroad and train enthusiasts (prototype trains, not model trains) that was formed in 1969. We are also the Little Rock Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society. We meet on the second Sundays of most months at 2 p.m.

Dues to join the ARKANSAS RAILROAD CLUB are currently $20 a year, which includes the monthly 16-24 page Arkansas Railroader newsletter. If you'd like to join the NRHS through our club (thus being a member of the Little Rock Chapter NRHS and national NRHS), you must pay $17 a year more, bringing the total to $37 a year for both. Dues are always payable on January 1st of each year, but you may pay at any time (membership will extend through the following year).

To join, send your name, address and phone number plus dues to the ARKANSAS RAILROAD CLUB, PO BOX 9151, NORTH LITTLE ROCK AR 72119. Call 501-758-1340 for information. The newsletter editor's email address is: ken.z.rw@ix.netcom.com. The Arkansas Railroader is put on the Web monthly, and that address is: http://www.trainweather.com

LIBRARY RAILROAD DISPLAY - The Central Arkansas Library on Rock Street in Little Rock will have a display of railroad artifacts in March. If you have any you can donate for the display, contact Jan Emberton at the library at 501-918-3000. They want such items as lanterns, timetables, caps, photos, etc.

NEGATIVES TO BE DONATED - GENE HULL will be donating his 2000 or so negatives taken in the 50s to early 60s around Little Rock, including some of the Urban Renewal scenes, to the Butler Center of the Central Arkansas Library System in January. These do NOT include his railroad negatives. There will be a reception in his honor, tentatively scheduled for January 20 around 5 p.m. (date and time subject to change). Arkansas Railroad Club members should receive invitations in January, and you'll need invitations to attend.

RELATIVELY SHORT ISSUE - As usual this time of year, events get in the way of putting this newsletter together, such as printing deadlines, time off, holiday parties, etc. This issue is going to press Monday, December 13 to have it ready before the end of the year. Any additional club news will be put in the February issue, unless extremely important. Coverage of the December 18 party will be in the February issue as well.

2000 DUES ARE DUE - If you haven't already paid (and many of you have paid), your 2000 dues are now due. All NRHS chapters collect dues on January 1. If you paid in the middle of the year, I put you as paid through December 2000. Then you should renew every year around the first of the year from now on. Look at your label for 2000 DEC to see if you're paid up. Thanks.

INSERTS AND SUCH - Again, I must point out that postal regulations have been getting stricter over the past few months, so when I insert a flyer in one envelope, I must put one in all other envelopes as well. So, even if you've paid for a calendar or paid your dues already, you will still be getting the same inserted flyer in some issues. PLEASE CHECK YOUR MAILING LABEL to see if you're paid up - if you have 2000DEC, you're paid up through 2000. If you have 99DEC, your dues are due. I've had two people pay their dues twice because they didn't check their labels - thanks for the additional contributions. Thanks.

2000 OFFICERS - The following are our new officers for 2000. They will be installed at the annual Christmas party.

PRESIDENT: John Hodkin, Jr.; VICE-PRESIDENT - Jim Wakefield; SECRETARY: Sharon Doyal; TREASURER: Walter Walker; NRHS DIRECTOR: Jim Bennett (Gene Hull will do his annual report this year); NEWSLETTER: Ken Ziegenbein; NEW BOARD MEMBER: Ron Esserman; PHOTOGRAPHER: John Jones.

RAILROAD ABANDONMENT PROPOSALS

The address of the Surface Transportation Board is: Office of the Secretary, Case Control Unit, 1925 K Street, Washington DC 20423. The STB phone number for abandonment procedures (Office of Public Services) is: 202-565-1592. If you contact them, it would be handy to use the Docket Numbers. Their Web address is: http://www.stb.dot.gov if you’d like the complete listings.

These abandonment proposals have been printed in the Federal Register or have come directly from the Surface Transportation Board. They will go into effect unless one of the following occurs: 1) an offer of financial assistance is received; 2) a request for public use of the land is received (for instance, rails-to-trails); 3) petitions to reopen the case is filed. Railroads, before they can file these "notices of exemption under CFR 1152 Subpart F," must certify that 1) no local traffic has moved over the line for at least 2 years; 2) any overhead traffic can be routed over other lines; 3) no formal complaint filed by a user is pending and; 4) environmental reports, historic reports, transmittal letter, newspaper publication, and notice to governmental agencies have been met. Even though approval is granted for the railroads to abandon, it may be months or years before track is actually taken up.

Maybe next month. Send in those articles and stories!

The world's first streetcar system opened in New York City with horse drawn cars on tracks on Fourth Avenue on November 14, 1832.

TARANTULA RR NOT RUNNING
(Fort Worth) - The Texas Star Clipper dinner train still had not started running as of mid November. They were supposed to start in late October. Coe Sun, the train's new owner, is still doing some major renovation of the cars. Also, the train is being stored in an old bomb factory, and they are behind in rent and may have to be evicted. They still plan to start before the end of 1999.

RAILFAN KILLED
(Winslow, Arizona) - A railfan was killed in mid-November in Winslow, Arizona while photographing a yard engine. The railfan was standing between the rails of one of the BNSF mainline tracks and was struck and killed while the crew of the yard engine and crew of the train on the main line watched. (Will this person show up in the "improving the gene pool list" next year?)

The longest and heaviest train (500 coal cars, 4 miles long, 42,000 tons) was pulled by Norfolk and Western Railroad between Lager, West Virginia and Portsmouth, Ohio on November 15, 1957.

FINAL RULE ON STEAM LOCOMOTIVES
The U.S. Department of Transportation announced November 18 that a final inspection and maintenance standards rule for steam locomotives has been adopted. The final rule makes a number of significant changes in the areas of inspections, record keeping, maintenance schedules and responsibility for ensuring continuing compliance with rules and regulations. The new rules were developed in consultation with the Steam Standards Task Force of the Tourist and Historic Railroads Working Group, which includes representatives of the Association of Railway Museums, Association of American Railroads, American Short Line and Regional Railroad Association, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Tourist Railway Association, Smithsonian Institution, National Board of Boiler and Pressure Vessel Inspectors, and a number of steam railroads and industry associations. Details of the new rules were not available. They will become effective January 18, 2000.

THOMAS THE TANK ACCIDENT
(London) - A railway buff who killed himself under the wheels of a Thomas the Tank train packed with children on November 17, 1999, was being investigated on child pornography charges. The day before Brian Wakley was decapitated in the accident, his home was searched for recording devices. Wakley, 42, threw himself under the train as it carried 200 children from Corfe Castle to Swanage in Dorset, England. (London Daily Mirror, November 18, 1999)

TRAINS BECOMING SAFER
According to the Federal Railroad Administration, U.S. railroads had an 11.2 percent increase in traffic in the past five years, yet had a 33 percent reduction in total accidents.

This crossing watchman’s shanty sat at the southeast side of the intersection of East 4th Street and Missouri Pacific “Valley” Division main line at North Little Rock, Arkansas. Looking east. (Photo July 1967 by Gene Hull)

THE WHITTILING CONDUCTOR

by: Gene Hull

In North Little Rock, where East Fourth Street crosses the railroad tracks, a small shanty about the same size as a “country restroom” sat at the southeast side of the intersection. This was almost in the center of the original town of Argenta. This spot was where the north-south main line of the Little Rock & Ft. Smith railroad crossed the Memphis & Little Rock heading west to intersect the Cairo & Fulton near the north end of the Baring Cross Bridge.

The little structure was a railroad crossing watchman’s shanty or shelter. At this crossing at the time of our story there were a couple of yard tracks and the main line of the “Valley” Division, which crossed the Arkansas river on the Junction Bridge.

Up until 1962, Billy J. Schall, 208 Goshen Street, North Little Rock, was a conductor-brakeman. At that time, he was stricken with Parkinson’s Disease (never degeneration). To accommodate Billy, the Missouri Pacific assigned him to protect the public during the infrequent passage of freight trains and switch engines.

During his abundant spare time, Billy occupied a cane-bottom chair either in his shanty, or outside, depending upon the weather. To keep his hands and mind active his pocket knife created large piles of tiny wood chips and shavings.

After the chips and shavings were removed, what remained would be a small pistol, windmill, a religious cross or a Maltese cross. These accumulated during the year and were given to children as presents at Christmas. Billy said the Christian cross was the most popular item he made. He was afraid to paint the toys because he knew some of the paints at that time contained lead and a child could be poisoned by chewing one of the toys.

Just before Christmas, friends and some merchants gave him pecans, which he shelled and sold. With this money he bought candy and fruit for the kids. The candy was sold at discount by Weingarten grocers, and Crank and Osco drug stores. He said Crank’s would not sell the candy at discount, but would give him 1.25 pounds and charge for only a pound. Roy Barker, a North Little Rock produce dealer, would sell him 100 apples at Roy’s cost.

Billy said he and his wife had no children and he did these things for the kids in the neighborhood around his Fourth Street “office.”

This was an added human interest to the railroads of North Little Rock. Billy’s little crossing shanty has been gone many years, but Billy still lives at the same address.
